

Development Theory

Deconstructions/Reconstructions

Second Edition

Jan Nederveen Pieterse

University of California, Santa Barbara

'This exciting book is a tour de force, spanning a broad range of approaches to development. It does not stop at critique, as so many previous books on these issues have done, but offers a unique perspective on future possibilities and the shape of things to come. It should be essential reading on all development studies courses' - Andrea Cornwall, Institute of Development Studies, University of Sussex

Praise for the previous edition:

'This marvellous book should be read by every social scientist interested in development studies'
- Keith Griffin, University of California, Riverside

This is the second edition of this successful book. Written by one of the leading authorities in the field, the book:

- Situates students in the expanding field of development theory
- Provides an unrivalled guide to the strengths and weaknesses of competing theoretical approaches
- Explains key concepts
- Examines the shifts in theory
- Offers an agenda for the future

In this book, the author brings a huge range of experience and knowledge about the relationship between the economically advanced and the emerging, developing nations.

Contents

1. Trends in development theory: Development in question The status of development theory Meanings of 'development' over time Development is struggle The development field Trends in development theory / 2. Dilemmas of development discourse - the crisis of developmentalism and the comparative method: From evolutionism to development Development as redemption: The crisis of developmentalism Options From bipolarity to polycentrism: The deconstruction of the West / 3. The development of development theory: towards critical globalism: Notions of change Development theories in the plural Modernization revisited Critical globalism / 4. Delinking or globalization? / 5. The cultural turn in development: questions of power: National culture Local culture Culture/power Add culture and stir Development and cultural liberty / 6. My paradigm or yours? Variations on alternative development: Alternative development Alternative development paradigm Paradigm politics Mainstream development Conclusion / 7. After post-development: Problematizing poverty Development = Westernization Critique of modernism and science Development as discourse Alternatives to development Anti-managerialism Dichotomic thinking Politics of post-development Coda / 8. Equity and growth revisited: from human development to social development: Social development Redistribution with growth Lessons of East Asia Human development Lessons of welfare states Social capital Conclusion / 9. Critical holism and the Tao of development: Remedying remedies Wholeness, holism Contradictions of modernity Development and high modernism Shortcuts and other remedies Towards the Tao of development / 10. Digital capitalism and development: The unbearable lightness of ICT4D: Bridging the digital divide ICT4D as a package deal Digital capitalism? Cyber utopia ICT4D and development studies: ICT4D and development policy / 11. Futures of development: Futures of development thinking Development as collective learning Complexity Reflexive modernity, reflexive development Reconstructions / 12. Twenty-first century globalization and development: Twenty-first century globalization Turning points New development era Development pluralism International development cooperation After the crisis

Published in association with Theory, Culture & Society

September 2009 · 272 pages

Paperback (978-1-4129-4515-8) Price £23.99

Hardback (978-1-4129-4514-1) Price £70.00

Find out more and order online at www.sagepub.co.uk

 SAGE

